Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: Shh ... I'm watching TV!

Learning Outcome

Accurately explain information about interests, hobbies, and preferences in communicative situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can say and use the th sound.
- I can use intonation.
- I can talk about TV shows.

Ask your partner:

- How often do you watch television?
Every day? On weekends?
- What is your favorite TV show?

Let's Explore!

Sally and John chat about the TV shows they prefer over drinks.

* "Over drinks" means while having a drink.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

John: Thanks for the cold drink, Sally. I was so thirsty!
Sally: No problem. It's hot outside.
John: What are you doing tonight?
Sally: Well, my favorite TV show is on tonight.
John: Which show?
Sally: Boston Nights. Vanessa watches it too! We both love it.
John: I prefer reality shows like The Last Survivor.
Sally: Ugh, I watched that show last week for a bit, but then I changed the channel.
John: Why?
Sally: I think it's boring. The contestants sat on the beach all day.
John: Well, they were tired and hungry!
Sally: I like to watch thrillers or detective shows. They are more interesting.
John: What time is Vanessa coming over?
Sally: Six o'clock. We are having three cheese pizza and drinks before the show starts.
John: Yum, can I come?
Sally: You hate Boston Nights, remember? And it's girls only.

Let's Practice!

Let's say and use words with the "th" sound.

Instructions: Read the words and sentences aloud.

both thriller thirsty three

Learning Points

Subject and Object Pronouns

Pronouns are used in place of nouns.

You use pronouns to talk about a thing or a person without repeating the noun.

Subject	Object
I	Me
You	You
He	Him
She	Her
It	It
We	Us
They	Them

You use subject pronouns when the pronoun is doing the action or the main topic (subject) of the sentence.

You use object pronouns when the pronoun is receiving the action.

Examples:

- I like to watch reality T.V. shows.
- Peter gave the keys to her.
- Let me help you.
